Copyright: Conditions for Publication for Copyright Owner

1. It is the journal's policy to acquire copyright on all contributions. There are two reasons for this:
  - (a) ownership of copyright by the publisher ensures maximum protection against infringement of copyright protected material through breach of copyright or piracy anywhere in the world;
  - (b) it also ensures that requests by third parties to reprint or reproduce a contribution, or part of it in any format, are handled efficiently in accordance with our general policy which encourages dissemination of knowledge inside the framework of copyright.
2. In return for your assignment of copyright, we undertake to publish your contribution to the journal in a timely and professional manner and license you with the following rights.
3. We hereby grant permission for you to publish the whole or any part of your Contribution in a printed work written, edited or compiled by you, provided the usual acknowledgements are given regarding copyright notice and reference to first publication by the Journal and SAGE. We further license you to make photocopies of your article for your own teaching needs, or to supply on an individual basis to research colleagues.
4. We also grant you permission to make available the whole or any part of your Contribution electronically on a secure network at your institution (i.e. one for which access is limited to members of the institution and physical visitors to the institution's site or sites only), provided the usual acknowledgements are given regarding copyright notice and reference to first publication by the Journal and SAGE.
5. Permission is also granted for you to post/make available electronically the abstract and up to 100% of the pre-publication version (the version of your paper as accepted for publication) of your Contribution and up to 50% only of the final (edited, revised and typeset) published text on the World Wide Web, provided the usual acknowledgements* [text for acknowledgement provided below] are given regarding copyright notice and reference to first publication by the Journal and SAGE, and provided this is not through a third party commercial provider, as all such requests for use of material from the Journal should be forwarded to the publisher.
6. (a) You will be informed, wherever practicable, of all requests, to which we have agreed, to reproduce your contribution, or a substantial part of it, in any other print-on-paper publication, or an electronic product such as a CD Rom where your contribution is specifically requested, rather than as part of the journal as a whole, subject to 6 (b) below. Please keep our mailing list up to date with your institutional or business address changes to facilitate this.

(b) The Journal may make the necessary arrangements, whether they themselves or through their agents, to place the Contribution in electronic storage so that it may be transmitted to meet legitimate requests for access including transmission in a document delivery service, and also the right to mandate reprographic rights organizations (RROs), such as the Copyright Clearance Center in the USA, and the Copyright Licensing Agency in the UK, each of which offers centralized arrangements for photocopying and digitization in their respective territories.
- (c) The Journal may be made available in both print and electronic forms.
7. If either of the following applies you may need to sign a different version of this agreement, in which case please contact the publisher:
  - (a) If you are a US Government employee and the Contribution was made in that capacity, or
  - (b) If you are an employee of the British Government or of a Company or Institution and the Contribution was made in that capacity.

*Authors must include the following acknowledgement when posting the pre-publication version of the Contribution on the World Wide Web:

“This paper has been accepted for publication in <Journal> and the final (edited, revised and typeset) version of this paper will be published in <Journal>, Vol/Issue, Month/Year by Sage Publications Ltd, All rights reserved. © Sage Publications Ltd, year of publication.”

Inclusion of Other Copyright Material

You shall at your own expense obtain from the copyright owner or owners written permission (which you shall submit with your manuscript) to include and reproduce within the Contribution any part of the typescript or illustrative material the copyright of which is not your own.

If you have included copyright material, e.g. illustrations, photographs, tables, charts, maps, company logos/trademarks or other visual material, etc. and not requested permission for this use under the Fair Dealing provisions of the UK Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 or Fair Use Provisions under US law for use of material in review, or other International Copyright Laws which may be in force, please just briefly give your explanation for our records for such inclusion of material below:

Fair Dealing Information for your reference:

Acts Permitted in Relation to Copyright Works — UK Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988, S30 (1)

Fair dealing with a work for the purpose of criticism or review, of that or another work or of a performance of a work, does not infringe any copyright in the work provided that it is accompanied by a sufficient acknowledgement.

Use of Copyright material for decorative or illustrative purposes in a journal article would not be considered fair dealing and permission from the rightsholder should be sought by the author for which a fee may be charged. The author is responsible for settlement of any permissions fees.

Permission should always be sought where reproduction could reasonably be construed as competing with the sale of the original source. If you are in doubt, please ask for advice from SAGE or the journal editor.
